CONTENTS

Contact ground

Description:

LIVING in the city:

- Renaturalization. Introduction of natural cycles in urban space. "Naturalized" green, porous pavements, natural irrigation, sewerage reduction...
- Resilience / climate change

AGING in the city

- The open playground
- Gender urbanism

FLOWING through the city:

- Pacification, the disappearance of cars, or change of priorities.
- New means of transport, new dynamics in loading-unloading...

ACTIVATING the city

- "Hybrids": building - public space.
- Ground floors as street activators. Uses, porosity, deep thresholds, transverse permeability...

PRODUCING in the city

- Productive spaces. Urban orchards, production means visibility, integration into the city...
- Energy production. Solar panels, pavement scrubbing, etc....
- Km zero. Site resources, proximity materials.

IDENTIFYING with the city

- Traces / Memory, identity of the place through the recovery of links with the collective memory, understanding the urban form of today through the knowledge of the past episodes.
- The city / territory as a palimpsest
- Reuse of existing elements (reduction of ecological footprint impact due to unnecessary demolition, and link with site identity), reuse of construction waste in the same place.

Full-or-part-time: 3h
