TEACHING METHODOLOGY
The teaching methodology is divided in four parts:
- Sessions for the content's exposition at classroom
- Practical working sessions at classroom (training for the use of the tools, presentations and use case debates)
- Practical development of elements of the innovation system linked to the European plan for research and innovation strategy.
- Autonomous work to study and carry out exercises and activities
LEARNING OBJECTIVES OF THE SUBJECT

- Be able to develop a business plan of technology innovation
- Manage and coordinate working groups, solving possible conflicts, considering the work performed by other people and evaluating the effectiveness of the team, as well as the presentation of the outcomes
- After identifying the different parts of an academic document and organizing the bibliographic references, design and execute a proper advanced research strategy with specialised information resources, selecting the pertinent information taking into account relevant and quality based criteria
- To plan and use the required information for an academic work (for example, for the "Treball Final de Grau") starting with a critical analysis about the information resources used
- To perform the assigned tasks from basic guidelines given by the professors, deciding the required time for each task, including personal contributions and extending the indicated sources of information
- To apply the knowledge acquired in the task development according to its relevance and pertinence, deciding the way to carry out the task and the time required and selecting the best sources of information
- To show enough lecture understanding in the reading of English documents, linked to the topic, like notes, scientific articles, web pages, etc
