HR EXCELLENCE IN RESEARCH

Members of the Steering Committee and Task Force of the Human Resources Strategy for Researchers (HRS4R)

Version: March 8, 2023

Vice-rectorate for Quality and Language Policy

Introduction

Under the supervision of the Vice-Rector's Office for Quality and Language Policy, the staff involved in the management, improvement, and monitoring of the HRS4R are grouped into two groups: the Steering Committee responsible for defining the work guidelines and monitoring the progress of the strategic and action plan, and the Task Force responsible for the implementation of the defined actions.

The Steering Committee comprises the persons responsible for the vice-rector of Quality and Language Policy, the vice-rector of Teaching and Research Staff Policy, the vice-rector of Research, and the Vice-rector for Transfer, Innovation and Entrepreneurship. The members of the Steering Committee also include the people in charge of the personnel and research areas. Finally, the person in charge of the Task Force also forms part of the Steering Committee.

The Task Force is made up of its person in charge and one member from each of the following units: Teaching and Research Staff Service, Research and Transfer Service, Office of Sustainable Management and Equal Opportunities, International Relations Bureau, Libraries, Publications and Archives Service, Communication Service, and the Doctoral School.
