Further information

Please check the international section for information on the master's degree you wish to study.

1. If you have been admitted to a master's degree, you will have to follow an academic review service offered by the UPC academic committee of the master's degree you are interested in. The academic review service will be due on the date specified in the offer letter. You will be asked to pay a fee of €30.21 for this review service.

2. You will be asked to pay a fee of €300 to confirm your enrolment at any moment via the pre-enrolment application. This fee is non-refundable. Once you have been informed that you have reserved the place for your enrolment, you will be able to complete the enrolment process.

3. You will have to fill in your personal details, the degree you wish to study, your previous academic record, language certificates, etc. You will also have to select the master's degree you want to apply for and use a valid e-mail address as your username. You will be asked to pay the €300 fee. The UPC has agreements with the following institutions: SENESCYT (Ecuador), Fundación Carolina (Dominican Republic), PRONABEC (Peru), Kazan University (Kazakhstan), CONACYT (Mexico), MESCYT (Turkmenistan), and we will confirm whether you should pay the enrolment fee. If the duration of the course of study in Spain is less than six months, you will not be eligible for a student card and you should apply for a type of visa that gives you the right to study in Spain. If you need to travel for professional reasons, you can apply for a student visa, not a tourist visa.

4. If you are approved, you will be informed by e-mail of your admission and you will have to pay the enrolment fee.

5. The first-year fee is due to the total enrolment fee when you enrol. If the duration of the course of study in Spain is more than six months, you will have to pay the enrolment fee when you enrol. If you have been admitted to a master's degree, you will find a link to the pre-enrolment application on your admission email. If you still have questions, you can contact the International Relations office at +34 934 016 114 or international@upc.edu.

6. You will receive a password that will enable you to get in to the application.

7. You will have to fill in your personal details, the degree you wish to study, your previous academic record, language certificates, etc. You will also have to select the master's degree you want to apply for and use a valid e-mail address as your username. You will be asked to pay the €300 fee.

8. The fee applies to all bachelor's and master's degree students.

9. If you are approved, you will be informed by e-mail of your admission and you will have to pay the enrolment fee.

10. If you have been admitted to a master's degree, you will have to follow an academic review service offered by the UPC academic committee of the master's degree you are interested in. Further information

Consult the international student services of our website:

www.upc.edu/sri/en/students/

For information on preparing for their stay at the UPC: Students must enquire whether their country has an agreement with Spain that allows you to benefit from public health care in Spain. Non-EU nationals whose visit exceeds three months must apply for a student visa. The UPC offers you a range of services designed to enable you to get in to the application.

We recommend that you look into your country's private insurance cover that includes your stay in Spain, as well as the cost of a stay in hospital. Many countries have arrangements with Spain so that EU nationals can benefit from the public health care system. The costs of the medical expenses must be paid before you arrive at Spain. You must then apply for a public health care card.

The UPC offers you a range of services designed to enable you to get in to the application.

DOCTORAL PROGRAMMES

www.doctorat.upc.edu/en

Fees, grants and financial aid

For further information contact the person in charge of master's degrees at admissions.masters.camins@upc.edu.

Languages

The UPC’s Master’s degrees are taught in Catalan, Spanish or English.

Enrolment fees

For the 2020-2021 academic year, they did not exceed €600. In the specific case of Erasmus Mundus joint doctorates, fees are set by the consortium of universities responsible for organising each programme.

Admissions

Candidates may request admission to a doctoral programme at any point in the academic year via the Doctoral School website. The selection process includes an appraisal of the candidate’s CV and other relevant merits.

Holders of a Spanish official university qualification

Holders of a Spanish official university qualification issued under previous regulations that qualifies the holder for admission to a master’s degree, who have not belonged to the EHEA but that has, by a homologation procedure, met the requirements of the EHEA, will provide admission to a doctoral programme in the country of origin or to a member state of the EHEA.

Holders of a Spanish official university qualification or an official university qualification issued by a university that belongs to the EHEA

If the qualification has not been homologated, the UPC will verify that the candidate meets the requirements established in the programme.

A holder of an official recognition issued by the UPC

If the qualification has not been homologated, the UPC will verify that the candidate meets the requirements established in the programme.

Enrolment in a master’s degree study

Successful candidates must pay a fee of €300 to confirm admission. Fees for non-residents who are not EU nationals are 1.5% higher for the 2020-2021 academic year.

In addition to the general requirements, specific admission criteria may apply. In some cases, the candidate must demonstrate research experience, publications, grants, and financial aid. This access route in no way implies the holder for admission to a specific case of Erasmus Mundus joint doctorates, fees are set by the consortium of universities responsible for organising each programme.

Students may seek out about grants and financial aid and other ways of funding doctoral study:

- Enabling Technologies for the Food and Agribusiness Engineering Field: contact: Info@fii.upc.edu
- Agricultural Engineering: contact: master.agro@etse.upc.edu
- Food and Bioengineering: contact: master.food@etse.upc.edu
- Health Sciences and Technology Field: contact: master.ses@etse.upc.edu
- Urban Mobility: contact: master.mmv@etc.upc.edu
- Flood Risk Management: contact: master.cmct@etc.upc.edu
-  Romero Setién Programme: contact: master.romero@etc.upc.edu

Holders of an official university qualification who, having passed the entrance examination for specialised medical training, have completed at least two years of a training course leading to an official degree in a Health Sciences specialisation. This access route in no way implies the holder for admission to a specific health sector field.

Access to doctoral programmes is open to candidates who meet the access requirements and may set additional bridging courses.

Professional qualifications for candidates from countries that do not belong to the European Higher Education Area (EHEA) will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis. This process may include an interview in Spanish.

Language

Applicants are expected to have a high level of proficiency in Spanish. Some doctoral programmes may require additional language skills.

Fees, grants and financial aid

Candidates should consult the specific conditions for each programme. Fees, grants, and financial aid may vary depending on the programme and the candidate's qualifications.

Pre-enrolment

In some cases, candidates must pre-enrol before starting their studies. This process may include an interview and the submission of specific documents.
Languages

For further information, consult the master's degree website.

Pre-enrollment

- Holders of an official university qualification who, having passed the entrance examination for specialised medical training, have completed the bachelor's degree in question included the same number of research credits as the programme.
- Holders of a Spanish official master's degree and that qualification obtained has not been homologated, the UPC will verify that the qualification obtained has been deemed to be equivalent to a Spanish qualification that qualifies for a master's degree.
