Apply for a place on a master’s degree at the UPC

Once you have been admitted, you will be informed of whether your application has been accepted for administrative and academic review.

Check that you meet the requirements for the master’s degrees organised by the UPC.

The UPC recommends the insurance policy “OnCampus” which covers any medical expense during your stay in Spain. It includes medical insurance, hospitalisation, repatriation and evacuation.

If you have been admitted, you must reserve the place in your master’s degree. If a body that has signed an agreement with our university has awarded you a grant that will cover part of the enrolment fee, we will confirm whether you should pay the fee.

If the duration of the course of study in Spain is less than six months, you must apply for a student visa. If the duration of the course of study in Spain is more than six months, the embassy may issue a student visa specifying the legal period of stay, which will be limited to the duration of the course of study. If you need any help, you can contact the International Students Office.

Apply for a place on a master’s degree at the UPC

Once you have been admitted, you will receive an e-mail to verify your identity and then you will be asked to upload all your administrative and required documents and attach the supporting documentation. You will have to fill in your personal data, your choice of master’s degree you wish to study, and the reason for your application.

Check that you meet the requirements for the master’s degree you wish to study. All the information about the master’s degrees organised by the UPC is available on the web page www.mastersdegrees.upc.edu. For each master’s degree you will find a description, including a description of the curriculum, the start date and duration, the academic record, language certificates, etc. (pre-enrolment dates).

Further information

Please check the international Relations section on the UPC website for fees, grants and financial aid, professional opportunities, etc.

Fees, grants and financial aid

The master’s degree is taught at the UPC at a cost of €30.21 for this academic year. Students with a European Union (EU) or European Economic Area (EEA) passport can enrol for the duration of their course of study in Spain. If there is such an agreement between the home country and Spain, if there is no such an agreement, or if there is an agreement that does not cover the study period, an official proof of residence in Spain is required. In this case, the student will be charged the full enrolment fee. The €30.21 fee will be paid as part of the total enrolment fee when you enrol. If you are not an EU/EEA citizen, you will have to pay the enrolment fee on offer.

The UPC academic calendar has been established in compliance with the European Credit Transfer and Accumulation System (ECTS). For the master’s degree, a number of 60 ECTS credits is required for a professional career. The ECTS formula is used as a guide basis and is applied to all degrees and study plans, including the curricula of the master’s degree. The master’s degrees correspond to the levels taught at the UPC on the web page www.mastersdegrees.upc.edu. The number of ECTS credits is the sum of the number of credits for the compulsory subjects and the number of credits for the optional subjects.

Apply for a place on a master’s degree at the UPC

1. Contact the UPC to obtain further information on the master’s degree you wish to study.
2. Before applying, check that you meet the admission requirements for the master’s degree you have chosen.
3. Apply online to the master’s degree you are interested in. You will have to complete the application form and pay a fee of €300. You will receive an e-mail with your pre-enrolment application status.
4. If you are admitted, you will be notified of the enrolment fee. For a course of study lasting a total of 180 days, the Spanish embassy may issue a student visa specifying 6 months, or 3 months for students who are not covered by the public health service.
5. Complete the enrolment process before the specified date. After completing the enrolment process, you will receive a pre-enrolment certificate (Inscripción Provisional). This certificate will allow you to enrol in the course and will be declared to the official health authorities.
6. If you need emergency care, please contact the medical services of your home country. If there is an agreement between the healthcare systems of your home country and Spain, you must apply for the SW 0204 visa.
7. You have 30 days to apply for a student visa. The Spanish embassy or consulate in your home country will require you to have the pre-enrolment certificate and the enrolment fee.
8. You will be informed whether you should pay the enrolment fee. For students who are not covered by the public health service, we will confirm whether you should pay the enrolment fee. You will have to register at the UPC website for information on preparing for your stay at the UPC, including cultural, accommodation, and language courses.
9. International students should visit the following website: www.upc.edu/sri/en/students 對於留學生應訪問以下網站：www.upc.edu/sri/en/students
10. The UPC offers you a range of services designed to enable you to get in to the application. These services include: admission, academic career, language courses, professional opportunities, etc.
11. The UPC has made three platforms available, including a description, file containing information on the UPC, and country details.
12. For further information, please contact the international relations office of the UPC at international@upc.edu or +34 934 016 200. You can also visit the following web page: www.upc.edu/en/masters/fees-grants

Further information

The structure of university qualifications

Bachelor’s degree (4 years)

Master’s degree (1 or 2 years)

Doctoral degree (3 years)

Professional career
Enrolment fees for master's degrees range from €41.17 to €65.87 (€26.49 to €42.56) per academic year. There are two pre-enrolment periods: January to July (for the autumn semester) and October to December (for the spring semester).

In addition to the general requirements, specific admission and enrolment requirements may be required, as well as an appraisal of the candidate's CV. Further information is available on the master's degree websites.

Pre-enrolment and enrolment requirements and financial aid for each master's degree can be found in the corresponding master's degree websites.

The UPC participates in a number of Erasmus Mundus programmes, which offer the following master's degrees:

- Advanced Power Engineering: 3 academic years / 180 ECTS - espum@upc.edu
- Sustainable Water Engineering: 2 academic years / 120 ECTS - octavio.anzolin@upc.edu
- Desalination and Water Purification Technologies: 2 academic years / 120 ECTS - octavio.anzolin@upc.edu

For the 2017-2018 academic year, they did not exceed €550. In the 2018-2019 academic year, they are expected to exceed €550.

The Government of Catalonia passes a decree establishing the fees for academic services at public universities each academic year. Fees for doctoral programmes are those applicable to public universities in Spain.

The Consortium of Universities (CU) of Catalonia and the University of Barcelona are responsible for the organisation of doctoral programmes. The doctoral programme committee will be responsible for determining the access route for each candidate.

Holders of a Spanish official university qualification or an official qualification from a country outside the European Higher Education Area (EHEA) that qualifies the holder for admission to a Spanish university's master's degree. The master's degree corresponds to a level of education equivalent to an official Spanish university qualification and that qualification is not from the EHEA but that has, by a homologation procedure, been declared equivalent to an official Spanish university qualification.

Access to the master's degree requires the candidate to have completed at least 300 ECTS credits in official university studys, which includes training credits as required in a master's degree course.

In addition to the general requirements, specific admission and enrolment requirements may be required, as well as an appraisal of the candidate's CV. Further information is available on the master's degree websites.
Languages

Holders of a Spanish official university qualification or an official university qualification issued by a university in a country that does not belong to the European Higher Education Area (EHEA). If the qualification was awarded under previous regulations: pre-EHEA degree (licenciatura/degree) or equivalent.

Access requirements

Holders of a Spanish official bachelor's degree (or equivalent) other than admission to the master's degree. The master's degree qualifies the holder for admission to a doctoral programme at any time, other than admission to the master's degree. The master's degree will, however, be fully and legally valid.

For master's degrees, enrolment fees range from €41.17 to €65.87 (€41.17 to €66.77) per academic year.

Fees for non-residents who are not EU nationals are 1.5% higher.

For doctoral programmes, the fees are set by the University of the programme campus.

Masters degrees are taught in Catalan, Spanish or English. For further information, consult the masters degree website.

For masters degrees, there are two pre-enrolment periods: January to July (for the autumn semester) and August to December (for the spring semester). Pre-enrolment may be done online and an appraisal of the candidate’s CV. Further information is available onleonardo.upc.edu.

Enrolment fees for masters degrees range from €41.17 to €65.87 per semester. Grants and financial aid are available. There are two pre-enrolment periods: January to July (for the autumn semester) and August to December (for the spring semester).

Holders of a qualification issued by a university in a country that does not belong to the European Higher Education Area (EHEA) may be deemed to be equivalent to a Spanish qualification that qualifies for the master’s degree programme.

For further information, consult the masters degree website.
In the specific case of Erasmus Mundus master’s, fees are set by the consortium of universities responsible for organising each programme. Find out more at www.mastersdegrees.upc.edu.

For the 2017-2018 academic year, they did not exceed €550. In the specific case of Erasmus Mundus joint doctorates, fees are set by the consortium of universities responsible for organising each programme.

Admission requirements

The following candidates will also be considered:

- Holders of a Spanish doctoral qualification issued under previous university regulations.
- Holders of a Spanish doctoral qualification issued under previous university regulations who wish to change their stream of study to an official Spanish university degree.
- Holders of a Spanish doctoral qualification issued by a university that belongs to the European Higher Education Area (EHEA). In these cases, the academic merit and previous degree (arquitectura/arquitectura) will be evaluated.
- Holders of a Spanish doctoral qualification issued by an international university whose degree is not recognised for any purpose in Spain.
- Holders of a non-EU doctoral qualification who wish to study at a Spanish university.

Access to doctoral programmes

Access to doctoral programmes is open to candidates who meet specific conditions. These specific conditions may include specific access qualifications, research experience, or merits deemed relevant. If the qualification has not been homologated, the UPC will verify that the qualification issued by a university that belongs to the European Higher Education Area (EHEA) is equivalent to the qualification required by the programme.

Admission deadlines

There are two pre-enrolment periods: January to July (for the autumn semester) and September to February (for the spring semester). For more information, please visit www.doctorat.upc.edu/en/new-students/admission.
