A close-up photograph of several dried cotton bolls and their stems. The bolls are in various stages of drying; some are still green, some are a pale yellow, and others are a deep tan or brown. The cotton fibers are visible, appearing soft and fluffy. The stems are thin and woody. The entire scene is set against a background of white, crumpled cotton fibers, creating a textured and organic composition.

Over 25 years of experience working with 100% organic cotton,
without dyes, only with the natural colours of the cotton plant.

START PULLING THE THREAD of our 100% organic cotton:

We produce our own cotton in Brazil.

Our seeds are free from genetic modification.

We do not use irrigation (only rainwater).

Our fields are free from polluting agricultural machinery.

Organic, insecticide-free farming.

Biodynamic growing practices.

All the farmers and their families are just as much a part of the project as we are.

We spin, weave and manufacture in Europe in line with the most stringent quality standards.

Total control over the transformation process.

Only cotton in its natural colours. We do not apply any dyes.

We do not apply any wet processes. Just washing.

Completely pure, biodegradable garment.

Endorsed by more than 25 years of experience of Organic Cotton Colours.

OCCGUARANTEE®

Our production process is totally sustainable,
environmentally-friendly and transparent.
